ARUN GUPTA

Fear and Organizing in the Age of Obama

Indy journalist Arun Gupta will share his observations from reporting on the Occupy Wall Street Movement, the labor movement, and the Tea Party. His talk focuses on how fear generated by corporations and the state affects the ability to organize, and how we need to recognize the patterns of fear that limit political engagement in left and progressive politics.

ARUN GUPTA served as international news editor of The New York-based Guardian Newsweekly from 1989–1992. He is a co-founder of The Independent newspaper and The Occupied Wall Street Journal. He is a frequent commentator on Democracy Now, Al Jazeera and radio stations around the country, has appeared on Bill Moyers' Now, and has been profiled by Wired, Business Week and The New York Times. Mr. Gupta is a Lannan Foundation writing fellow.
